BYRON, Ga., Nov. 17, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Kinetic, the insurgent residential and business fiber internet provider, announced today that Byron is officially recognized as a Kinetic “Gig-Ready Community,” meaning more than 75% of the homes in the community now have access to Kinetic’s high-speed, next generation internet.

This major technological milestone marks a significant advancement in the community’s digital infrastructure and provides many residents with award-winning technology - at a better value - and an overall better internet experience to help enhance everyday life.

“It is difficult to get good Wi-Fi in the mountains, but Kinetic does it and has great service," said Charles Spitler, a Kinetic customer in Georgia.

To date, more than 5,500 homes in the greater Byron area have access to Kinetic’s future-proof internet to better support work, education, streaming, and telehealth.

Kinetic’s continued investment in the community’s fiber-optic network is providing fast and reliable connectivity that is essential for economic growth and opportunities. According to research, fiber-connected communities see meaningful gains, including:

- 213% higher business growth
- 10% higher self-employment
- 14-17% potential increase in home values

“Fast, dependable fiber connectivity has become essential to everyday life, from how people work and learn to how they access care, run businesses and stay connected,” said Stacy Hale, Kinetic’s state operations president. “That’s why we continue investing in our network and expanding Gig-Ready communities like Byron, helping more residents and businesses tap into greater opportunity, support local growth and fully participate in today’s digital economy.”

Kinetic, named, named CNET’s “2026 Best Rural Fiber Provider,” has been a long-term partner to Byron and many other communities across Georgia. The company’s continued local investment in the state builds on its national recognition for fiber performance and reliability.
